The magic lantern, also known by its Latin name lanterna magica, is an early type of image projector that used pictures—paintings, prints, or photographs —on transparent plates (usually made of glass), one or more lenses, and a light source. It was mostly developed in the 17th century and commonly used for entertainment purposes.

The Magic Lantern guide is helping me figure things out in a more realistic way than if I were trying to use the manual that came with the camera. I am working on reading it cover to cover, and I am discovering tips and information about using DSLR's that I did not know before, even if they are not specific to the 7D.

Like Magic Lantern's D50 guide, this one is very well written: comprehensive, yet, totally understandable. And as a 'use-it-as-you-go' reference, it's very easy to find the information you need quickly. In agreement with numerous other reviews posted here, Nikon needs to work out a deal to include Magic Lantern's guides with their cameras.
